Bio

Ernest Ogaga Itiveh, known as Egar Boi, is a producer, songwriter, recording artist and sound engineer from Lagos. Both of his parents are pastors, and he grew up in church: drums at seven, piano at twelve, singing with his mother and sister at home.

He started out as a singer and songwriter, and moved into production after his first label deal. He builds a beat the way he writes a song, step by step, and he names Masterkraft and Don Jazzy as his biggest influences.

His production and writing credits include Ozuna and Davido, Yemi Alade, Phyno and Oxlade, Tekno, Skales and Timaya, with more than 230 works registered to his name. As an artist, Give Me Chills has passed 470,000 plays on Spotify.
